highway to moscow: itinerary

day 1 - classic itinerary

Beijing - Welcome to Beijing! Arrival transfer from Beijing airport to hotel (no arrival transfer if you have elected to take a costsaver deal). Overnight - Beijing.

day 2 - beijing

Beijing - breakfast. Don some comfortable shoes. Beyond Beijing, enjoy a visit to a section of the Great Wall at Badaling, where you can hop on and walk a section of this behemoth. Some parts of the wall are fairly steep, but the walk on the vast wall that snakes for thousands of kilometres is one of those 'must do' experiences! Back in Beijing, enjoy a walk on the vast Tiananmen Square where Chairman Mao's tomb and various monuments to the people are located. Dominating the city's heart is the Forbidden City. A centre of power for five centuries and seat of the emperors, enjoy a guided visit (guided visit for classic adventure only). Lunch and overnight - Beijing.

day 3 - beijing - ulaan baatar

Beijing - Ulaan Baatar - breakfast. Early this morning, an included transfer to Beijing rail station for the train to Ulaan Baatar - capital of Mongolia. Overnight - train.

days 4 & 5 - ulaan baatar & terelj np

Ulaan Baatar (Outer Mongolia) - Afternoon arrival (subject to border formalities and inevitable delays) in Outer Mongolia. A country of unspoilt natural beauty, Mongolia is a popular stop on the Trans-Siberian. On arrival enjoy lunch in Ulaan Baatar before transferring to nearby Terelj National Park for a 2 night stay in beautiful surrounds, where outdoor pursuits such as horse riding (additional cost), hiking and rock climbing are available. Stop en route to visit a nomadic family. Your home on the steppe, is a traditional Mongolian ger (a sturdy wood and felt type tent). Breakfast (on day 5), lunch, dinner and overnight (2) - ger camp. *Due to extreme weather, clients undertaking a classic adventure during the winter can decide upon arrival whether to stay in permanent accommodation or a Mongolian ger.

Please note: Costsaver travellers spend days 4 &

5 at leisure in Ulaan Baatar (not ger camping in Terelj NP).

day 6 - ulaan baatar - ulan ude

Terelj NP - Ulaan Baatar - Irkutsk - breakfast. Leaving Terelj NP, a transfer back to the capital - Ulaan Baatar via a food store in anticipation of the onward afternoon departure to Ulan Ude in Russia. During the journey, the train will cross the border into Russia, bringing with it inevitable customs and immigration formalities and delays. Overnight - train.

day 7 & 8 - lake baikal

Irkutsk - Listvyanka - breakfast (day 8). Arrive in Irkutsk - a town with Asiatic influences of nearby Mongolia and china and curious architecture - a legacy of Siberia's aristocratic exiles. Classic adventure travellers transfer to Listvyanka village, which offers stunning views of Baikal - Siberia's inland sea. Spend the next two at leisure by beautiful Lake Baikal or perhaps choose one of the optional activities available (must be booked in advance, see brochure/website for details). Siberian banya (sauna), lunch (1), dinner and overnight (2) - Listvyanka homestay.

day 9 - lake baikal & irkutsk

Listvyanka - Irkutsk - breakfast. Departing Listvyanka at shortly after midday, stop for lunch and transfer back Irkutsk. The remains of the day is free to explore Irkutsk. Lunch, dinner and overnight - Irkutsk homestay days 10 to 12 - journey to siberia

Irkutsk - Moscow - breakfast (day 10). Late afternoon transfer to the rail station for the onward journey to Moscow across tracts of Siberia and the Ural Mountains. Overnight (3) - train.

day 13 - moscow

Moscow - This morning the train reaches Moscow.

SPECIAL NOTE: Schedules dictate a morning arrival in Moscow on day 18. We strongly urge you to stay at least one night in Moscow to avoid the risk of missing your onward international flight in case of delays. Why not stay a few days in Moscow? Please contact us for Moscow stopover rates.

See 'what you get' for content of costsaver adventure.

train upgrades

If you are a solo traveller wishing to upgrade to a 2 berth exclusively (or wanting to share with another member of the public) or party of 3 wishing to exclusively occupy a 4 berth cabin, please contact us for rates. Upgrades to 1st class cabins are subject to route and availability. Some trains may only be configured with one 1st class 2 berth cabin wagon (containing 9 cabins or 18 seats in total. On services between Irkutsk and Ulan Ude, there are no 2 berth cabins available, and on the once-weekly service between Beijing and Ulaan Baatar seats are offered on a per person basis, so we cannot provide for a 'buy-out' of a 4 berth cabin to be occupied by 2 passengers, if a 2 berth cabin isn't available on that route. Moreover, during period May - October, all routes get particularly busy, and it may prove more difficult to successfully obtain an upgrade to a 2 berth cabin on routes that would normally be easier to second such a cabin under normal circumstances. on the go will advise on an individual basis, the status of upgrade possibility.

train schedules

Chinese & Mongolian Railways operate the service from Ulaan Baatar to Beijing in turn. Please understand that different departure dates could alter the advertised journey slightly. Usually, this would entail an additional night or two in Mongolia or in the case of alternate trips, perhaps an additional night somewhere up the line. Please check with us at time of booking.

time

One of the most disorienting aspects of the Trans-Siberian trip is working out what time it really is! On Chinese trains, everything works to what is known as Beijing Time (even though China has 3 time zones). China is 8 hours ahead of GMT and operates in one time zone, so train and station clocks are set according to Beijing time, meaning, given the size of the country, sunset and sunrise can occur at peculiar times! Having gotten used to Chinese Time, when you hit Mongolia or Russia, the time will change again to Ulaan Baatar or Moscow Time. Mongolia is 8 hours ahead of GMT. All long-distance Russian trains run on Moskovskaya Vremya or Moscow Time in Russia, the abbreviation for which is MB in Cyrillic or MV in English. All timetables, station and train clocks and announcements are Moscow Time. Pack a travel alarm clock!

homestays

Homestays do vary, in that you may be staying with a local family, couple or single person. In some cases the home owner may actually move out so that you have the home to yourself. The local homes we use are generally very simple and basic with shared bathroom facilities. Please note that if you are travelling in a larger group it may be necessary for you to stay in separate houses because most homes are small and only have room for one or two guests.

luggage

A frameless backpack/rucksack in favour of an unwieldy suitcase is recommended for your Trans-Siberian journey, as complimentary portage is not offered anywhere. Suitcase wheels get mired in the snow making it difficult to wheel your luggage, there are also often lots of stairs to climb and rigid cases are also hard to store in the cabin.

luggage stowage

Train cabins offer a surprising amount of storage space for luggage. The 2 bottom bunks can be lifted to provide access to storage compartments. In addition, there is storage space near the ceiling for luggage. It's a good idea to keep money, cameras and other valuable on one's person when the cabin is empty, and luggage should be locked at all times. As trains are used by local people including Chinese, Mongolian and Russian traders, they like to use up a vast degree of available luggage space for their contraband stock. However, you are entitled to enough space to store what is yours. Sometimes, a sharp gesticulation does the trick. You'll only have to find a home for your luggage when you first board. From that point, your main luggage will stay in storage within your cabin until you disembark.

accommodation upgrades

We understand that some travellers may prefer their own privacy. As such, we offer accommodation upgrades.

Classic adventure travellers have the opportunity to upgrade from homestays to hotel accommodation (at an additional cost) in Listvyanka and Irkutsk.

On our costsaver adventure we offer travellers the option to switch from homestay accommodation to upgrade to budget hotels in Irkutsk (at an additional cost).

Perhaps consider a combination of homestays and hotels - the choice is yours!

Please note - if choosing to upgrade, hotels and hostels are on a bed and breakfast basis and dinner is not provided. If choosing to upgrade to a hotel in Listvyanka, the banya will not be included.

Upgrades are subject to availability. Please visit our website - www.onthegotours.com or contact us for details and prices.
